

WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD.

PLOT CHARGED BY PRESIDENT SHOWS ANGER

Bad Taste Follows Banquet at Pittsburg.

DECLARES HE WAS "BAITED"

Was Given Tip on Littleton Affair and It Required Urging on Part of Prominent Citizens to Secure Attendance at Function—New York Representative Denies That Attack on Sherman Law Was Directed at President.

Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—Believing that he was butchering to make Pittsburg a holiday, President Taft is real angry. That Congressman Martin Littleton maliciously and intentionally baited him at the Chamber of Commerce banquet by unexpectedly opening an argument on the Sherman anti-trust law, is the specific charge. One story is that the president was informed early in the evening that a plot had been laid to give him a very unpleasant evening at the banquet. Another was that he had been told that Congressman Littleton's speech would contain a savage attack on the attitude of the president and other members of his administration toward the big corporations. The story runs that the president positively refused for a time to attend the banquet and that several Pittsburgers had to be called in to give him assurance that he had received false information as to what would take place at the big gathering in Memorial hall. It was not until these guarantees were received, it is said, that the president consented to go to the banquet.

Hinted at in Dispatch. The active displeasure was hinted in a wire from Morgantown, W. Va., where the president went from here, in which it is stated that the president for the first time in his career

"got mad" in public. The manner in which the speech-making was switched was not to Mr. Taft's liking, and the report from Morgantown contains a rap for the chamber of commerce, responsible for it, as well as for Littleton.

This fact was communicated to Congressman Littleton at his room in the Schenley hotel. Also that the statement had been made that Littleton had taken an unfair advantage of the president because the latter had only 19 minutes in which to make his train and so could not frame what he believed to be the reply that the occasion demanded.

"Why, the whole thing is foolish," answered Littleton, with a rising inflection. "I had not such in mind. If anything of that sort was done it was not my fault. I had been shifted back and forth on the program until I did not know where I stood. But I made no complaint. It was not up to me and I knew it."

"The president's excited. I don't see why he should take upon himself a defense of the Sherman anti-trust law. He's not responsible for it. I'd hate to have the job of explaining its shortcomings for the past 21 years."

"Mr. Taft knew what I was going to say, or at least he should have, because I gave him a copy of my speech early in the afternoon and he had plenty of time to read it if he wanted to. In fact, I understand he did read it, so the charge that he was taken unawares won't stand."

"As a matter of fact, I wrote that speech when I was crossing the ocean several weeks ago, and before I had any knowledge that Taft or Wickersham contemplated any action against the steel trust, and long before the suit was entered in Trenton."

Kills Sweetheart at Dance. Muncie, Ind., Nov. 2.—While the merry music of the two-step was sounding in an up-town dance hall, Charles McGalliard, 22, a painter, shot to death his fiancée, Alta Hayworth, 20, a pretty telephone operator.

SENATOR CLAPP
Minnesota Progressive Speaks in the Capital City Tonight.

Photo by American Press Association.

Senator Clapp Visits In Columbus

Minnesota Senator Speaks For Progressive Constitution.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—When Senator Moses T. Clapp arrived in Columbus this afternoon he was presented with the keys of the town by a committee representing the united constitution committees of Franklin county. This evening Senator Clapp will address a meeting in Memorial hall in behalf of a progressive constitution and the election of J. W. Harberger, George W. Knight and E. A. Peters as delegates to the constitutional convention from Franklin county.

FINDS NAVY IN FIGHTING TRIM

Secretary Meyer Reviews Fleet in Hudson River.

GIVES PRAISE TO OSTERHAUS

Calls For Reporters and Tells Them That Mobilization in 30 Days Demonstrates Efficiency of Organization—Will Ask Congress to Provide 2,000 More Men For Reserve Fleet. President Taft Reviews Fleet From Deck of Mayflower.

New York, Nov. 2.—That this country has a right to class itself as the greatest naval power in the world was demonstrated by the Atlantic fleet. That was the judgment of the navy builder, Secretary George Von L. Meyer, after he had passed up and down six and a half miles of great and little ships, sweeping them with a keen and knowing eye. A magnificent fleet ready to fight at a word from the country, was the secretary's remark.

After the inspection was over and the last three-pounder saluting gun had hammered echoes against the Manhattan skyscrapers, the secretary of the navy wirelessly the newspaper men to come aboard the Mayflower. Mr. Meyer, with a company of rear admirals, was waiting in the cabin of the yacht. It would have been hard to find a more satisfied man. He did not gush. He didn't run to unnecessary words. But his pleasure over the day's showing was unmistakable.

"This mobilization in 30 days' notice," said he, "has demonstrated our preparedness for any emergency. It has developed that ships can be assembled in a short time. It has shown the effectiveness of the present organization. That organization has resulted in both efficiency and economy. The ships are becoming more self-sustaining. For example,"

(Continued on Page Four.)

Rev. C. V. T. Richeson and Girl For Whose Death He Is Held

N EARLY all the elements which lend interest to a murder case will be present in the trial of the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell. The accused man, the popular pastor of a fashionable Cambridge (Mass.) church, is charged with responsibility for the death of a young girl to whom he once paid marked attentions, but whose removal he is supposed to have desired because of his engagement to the daughter of a wealthy parishioner. The mystery is rendered more gruesome by the peculiarly deadly nature of the drug which caused the young woman's death—cyanide of potassium—and the testimony of a druggist that before the crime was committed the clergyman purchased "enough of it to kill ten men." The devotion to the prisoner of his fiancée and her family is another remarkable feature of a case which is likely to be noteworthy among the sensational murder trials of the past decade.

WITNESSED THE DEATH OF HIS SWEETHEART CAUSE IS A MYSTERY

Wooster Youth Then Ends Own Life in Cemetery.

Wooster, O., Nov. 2.—Mystery surrounds the motive in the suspected suicide of Miss Carmen Humphrey, which was followed by that of her fiancé, Rufus Billiard. Coroner King is trying to find what caused led to the tragic ending of their romance. Miss Humphrey, 19, a pretty orphan, lived with Mrs. Leo Matz. Billiard, 22, in addition to his regular employment, conducted a dancing school. She was with him at his dancing school. She could not dance, but watched him conduct his class. Some of her friends think that seeing him dance with others grieved her, but she did not show any such feeling. After the school was dismissed the two had lunch at a restaurant, and then he escorted her home. After they parted she went to her room. Shortly afterward she screamed and Mrs. Matz found her unconscious in convulsions. She called physicians and young Billiard. The young man arrived in time to see his sweetheart die. Several hours after Billiard left the Matz home, two women walking through the Wooster cemetery found his body. Beside him was a strychnine bottle. Later a suspicious looking white powder was found in Miss Humphrey's handbag. In a notebook Billiard had written: "Dear Mother: Forgive me for this. RUFUS."

Editor Succumbs To Paralysis

Editor Cappeller of Mansfield Prominent in Politics.

Mansfield, O., Nov. 2.—W. S. Cappeller, 73, founder of the Mansfield News in 1885 and former postmaster, died as the result of a third stroke of paralysis, suffered Oct. 19. He had been unconscious for several days preceding his death. He is survived by Mrs. Cappeller, who was Miss Elizabeth Killen, and these five children: Mrs. Charles G. Miller, Cincinnati; William G. Cappeller, Mansfield; Mrs. C. C. Doran, Long Beach, Cal.; Edward B. Cappeller, Los Angeles, and Mrs. W. H. Congwer, Cleveland.

Mr. Cappeller was one of the best-known figures in Ohio politics. In 1880 he was chairman of the state Republican committee. In 1886 he was one of the organizers of the Ohio Associated Dailies, of which he was president several terms. In 1886, 1887 and 1888 he was chairman of the Ohio state Republican committee. By appointment of Governor Foraker he served as state commissioner of railroads and telegraphs in 1887-9.

Mr. Cappeller was president of the National Editorial association in 1892-3.

DENY FAVORING THE STEEL COMBINE

Heads of Railroads Called on The Carpet.

WERE INDICTED FOR REBATING

Interstate Commerce Commission Gets Tip That Trusts Are Favored at Expense of Smaller Concerns in Matter of Ore Rates—Railway Officials Tell Lane That If Injustice Has Been Done It Has Been Unintentional and Due to Errors.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The interstate commerce commission has been quietly conducting an extended investigation into discrimination and special privileges which are alleged to be made principally in favor of the United States Steel corporation and some of its subsidiaries, by railroads which transport iron ore from ports on the Great Lakes. Officials of a dozen railroads came here for a conference with Commissioner Lane, who has been directing the inquiry.

James McCrea, president of the Pennsylvania; J. H. Reed, president of the Bessemer & Lake Erie; J. H. Clarke, general counsel for the New York, Chicago & St. Louis (Nickel

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Happenings All Over Ohio

WETS RECAPTURE MARION

City Reverses Former Verdict Enough to Overcome Rural Vote.

Marion, O., Nov. 2.—Marion county repudiated county local option, after a trial of three years, by a majority of 435. The dries carried 23 of the 42 precincts, but the wets made huge gains all over the county and in this city. The wets carried this city by 725, against a dry majority of 391 three years ago, a gain of 1,116. The whole county cast 500 fewer votes than in 1908, despite the fact that interest in the election seemed to be much greater than in the first election. The wet vote was 4,273 and that of the dries 3,838.

Three years ago Marion county voted out 52 saloons, with a majority of 1,253. At that time the wets carried but five precincts in the city and one township in the county. This time they carried 12 out of 17 in the city. The percentage of gain was well scattered over the county, the particular surprises, however, being the big wet vote cast in the Third and Fourth wards.

Lebanon Gets Gymnasium.

Lebanon, O., Nov. 2.—W. Elmer Harmon of the real estate firm of Wood, Harmon & Company of New York, a brother of Clifford B. Harmon, the aviator, and a former Lebanonite, who is now a millionaire, has made his home town a present of $50,000 gymnasium and has agreed to give $3,000 a year for its sustenance.

Killed by Black Hand.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—In a revolver fight between four Italians in Giuseppe Anello's grocery, Angelo Lavarro, 35, said by the police to be a Black Hand operator, was killed with five bullets in his body, and Ernesto Damico, 28, was probably fatally wounded. Anello is under arrest.

AFFIDAVIT REJECTED

Governor Will Not Interfere With Scott Electrocution.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—The affidavit of Mary Douglas, colored, of Detroit, with whom Steve Scott, sentenced to die in the electric chair, lived at the time of his crime, failed to gain Scott another reprieve. Governor Harmon refusing to interfere with his electrocution, which will take place as scheduled shortly after midnight tonight.

Talk About Good Roads.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—To direct the scattered work now being done by good roads organizations and automobile clubs over the state to secure pledges from candidates for delegates to the constitutional convention for submission of a $50,000,000 bond issue for good roads in Ohio, a joint meeting of the good roads committee of the Ohio State Automobile association and executive officers of the Ohio Good Roads federation was held here. In resolutions it urged that all autoists in the state unite in aiding the good roads movement.

Posse Seeks Shooter.

Portsmouth, O., Nov. 2.—Deputies have gone to reinforce the posse which had a pitched battle with James Evans and his son Otto on Twinn creek, and during which George Rivers was shot through the back and side, but not dangerously wounded.

Three Fatally Scalded.

Lima, O., Nov. 2.—Three men were fatally scalded when the boiler of a freight locomotive on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad exploded on a hill four miles east of here. The injured are Engineer C. F. Honholt and Fireman Zeltz of Fort Wayne, and brakeman Elmer Hobatter of Lima.

All Eyes on Pickaway. Circleville, O., Nov. 2.—Pickaway county is today voting on the wet and dry question, with both sides, as usual, confident of victory.

Jewelry Store Robbed.

Cyngnet, O., Nov. 2.—Breaking the window of Aaron Swartz's jewelry store here, a robber secured nine gold and six silver case watches, valued at $350.

He Ought to Know.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—Ezra Brudno, assistant county prosecutor and well-known author, who last week stated his intention of spending a week in the Ohio penitentiary just to see how it feels, has received a letter from a prisoner there urging him to stay away. "Don't come, Ezra," the letter runs. "It is not like home here."

CLAMOR FOR MONEY

Columbus Foreigners Lose Savings Through Banker's Flight.

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—Bela Pukey, "banker" for the foreigners in South Columbus, has made an assignment in probate court, turning over all his property to his attorney, Frank E. Ruth. His "bank" is closed. It is said that about 100 people had deposited about $12,000 with him. In most cases the deposits were the savings of years. Pukey's assets are given as $6,000 and his liabilities $12,000. Bad speculation is said to have resulted in Pukey's difficulties.

As soon as the news of Pukey's disappearance had spread angry Hungarians, Slavs, Italians and others flocked about the bank, muttering vengeance. But Pukey could not be found, so there was little outward demonstration, just anguish and sorrow and the thirst for revenge.

Want ads are profitable.

First Time in City's History Was Resolution by Council Insisted Upon by Authorities

Say Challengers of Mayor's Position on Question of Lights and Water Mains for New Additions.

RESUME OF COUNCIL'S RECORDS

Show That in Many Other Instances Like Improvements Were Made With Only Committee's Recommendation.

The publication of the open letters of Manager Clapp, of the Washington Gas and Electric Company, and Superintendent Fisher, of the Washington Water Company, has aroused the defenders of the city council's position and the challengers of Mayor Allen's attitude in reference to the disputed responsibility for the failure to place lights and lay water mains in the new territory.

Parties interested in sustaining council's attitude and placing the responsibility for the lack of lights and water mains in the new additions upon the mayor, call attention to certain portions of the council records which they claim bear out their contention.

These portions of the record are the following:
Council Records, page 104, August
7th, 1905.

Veail made a motion that electric lights be placed at the corner of High and Newberry streets and at the corner of Rawlings and Delaware streets, which was seconded by Shoop;
all voted aye.

These two lights were placed by the electric light company without any further action of council.

Council Records, page 232, January
4th, 1909.

Public Service Committee made the following report, with regard to electric lights and Engineer T. K. Perdue, presented map of city electric lights.

COMMITTEES REPORT.

We recommend five new electric lights located as follows:

Corner of Forest and Gregg streets, corner of Leesburg and Oakland avenue, corner of Sycamore and Cherry streets, corner of Van Deman and Millwood avenue, corner of Main and Oak streets.

All to be located at the intersection, and to move first light east from North street, on Paint street to the George Jenkins' alley and the light south, 50 feet on Draper street from the C. & M. V. railway to Loo or 150 feet north on same street.

Clarence Hard

WILL HOLD A

Display of Oil Color PICTURES

At Springer's,

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY

FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 2, 3.

Art Photography

Superior knowledge and ability tells the same story in every profession. If it is quality you desire in your photograph, compare my work with others you have seen at the same price. I also have work at prices to suit every one. Some photographs as low as one dollar per dozen.

My window display will appeal to you, stop and look at it, then come in and order your Christmas work now, don't wait until December, for the more time you give me the better my work will please you.

T. C. DeWeese
115 W. Court St.

Authoress Dead

Special to Herald.

London, Nov. 2.—Lady Colin Campbell, the noted authoress, died here Thursday.

Kyrle Bellew Dies in Utah

Special to Herald.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov.
2.—Kyrle Bellew, world famous actor, died here Thursday of pneumonia.

The remains will be taken to
New York for burial.

Street Cars In Collision At Cincinnati

Special to Herald.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 2.—Motorman Charles Van Camp and a negro named Stubbs were fatally injured and eleven others were so seriously injured that their recovery is very doubtful, in a collision between cars on the Gilbert avenue hill, Thursday morning.

Schedule Resumed Trestle Repaired

The work of clearing away the big wreck of the C. H. & D. at Caesar's Creek, east of Xenia, and of constructing the trestle has been finished, and all trains are now running on their usual schedule after being tied up for four days.

Considering the amount of work required, and the difficulty under which the workmen labored, their work has been quick. Workmen were employed night and day until the track was laid and everything completed, ready for the resumption of traffic at the point where the wreck occurred.

McBee Found Guilty Assault and Battery

At six o'clock Wednesday evening the jury, after being out a half day on the case of Ohio vs. Jesse McBee, who was charged with stabbing with intent to kill Ralph West at Jeffersonville, April 29, 1911, returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery.

The case was commenced first of the week, and a large number of witnesses were examined. The defendant was represented by Attorney E. L. Bush.

Judge Carpenter has not yet assessed the fine against McBee, but in no case will it be as serious as it would have been if he had been found guilty of stabbing with intent to kill.

The case has been watched with interest by the citizens in general.

RELIEVE YOUR STOMACH.

We Will Help You Do It. Read Our Guarantee

Dyspepsia may be completely eradicated if properly treated. We sell a remedy that we positively guarantee will completely relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or the medicine used during the trial will cost the user nothing.

This remedy has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and our offer should be proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable remedy.

Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you, we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. A 25-cent box contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. For chronic cases we have two larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store. Blackmer & Tanquary.

Storm buggies that protect you from the storm, with easy opening doors that open easy are the kind you get at The Dice-Mark Hdw. Co.

New Method

MEANS ALL THAT IS THE LATEST AND BEST IN

Gas Stoves and Ranges.

And We Have
the Line Exclusively.

Don't be misled by knockers who know nothing from experience.

Try One.

Have it sent out and we will guarantee that you will be a satisfied customer.

See those Enameled Steel Burners.

See the enameled Steel Sides and Backs.

See the Aluminum-lined Ovens that will not rust.

See all those Exclusive Features found only in the NEW METHOD Ranges and Stoves.

Allen Construction Co

The Low-Priced Store

113 W. Court St.

Evangelist Willhite Remarkable Success

Rev. Willhite is still holding forth at Danville and has been here two weeks only and scores of souls have been saved. On Sunday afternoon he preached a "booze" sermon to the men only and there was never such a crowd of men in Danville before.
Sunday night he preached on "Sampson", and the church was filled to its utmost capacity. The doors had to be locked to keep people out. There were 75 who came out and said they wanted to be saved during the meeting. Talk about Billy Sunday, why he isn't anything compared to Rev.
Willhite, for such a size town as Danville.—London Democrat.

The Silver steel enamel ware is a silver gray color and so made as to render it exceptionally easy to keep bright and clean, will wear longer and keep nicer than any other ware.
The Dice-Mark has secured a large consignment of this ware made especially for their own trade, on each piece is their own label and is sold under absolute guarantee. They invite the ladies to examine this excellent line of kitchen ware.

Fight a Hot One Over in Pickaway

Pickaway county votes on the saloon question again today, after three years of "wet dryness".

Three years ago the county went dry by a majority of 200 votes, but grave fears are entertained over the result this time, owing to the lack of law enforcement which has kept Circleville in a wet condition since it voted dry.

The dries closed their campaign with a rousing meeting addressed by John S. Rutledge, the famous temperance orator, while the wets closed the campaign with a meeting addressed by Homer Durand, head of the Personal Liberty League.

Three years ago the total vote cast was 6715. New Holland voted dry by a majority of 49, the result showing 117 votes for the dries and 68 for the wets. If the county goes wet and an election is held in New Holland, that promises to go dry by a good majority.

This is the Place

to buy your footwear. We carry the celebrated "Star Brand" shoes—the kind that contain no substitutes for leather. The great diversity of styles and popular leathers makes it possible for us to fit every member of the family. "Star Brand" shoes are made by expert shoe makers, which assures that they will fit properly.

When you need shoes, think of "Star
Brand" shoes and bring your feet to us.

We can fit the feet and the pocketbook.

F. M. Palmer

OUR GROCERY LINE IS COMPLETE

We quote Granulated sugar at $1.75 per 25lb sack.
Coffee from 22c to 27c per pound.
Flour 60c to 85c
Oranges 15c per dozen.
Jumbo Bananas 15c per dozen.

Our own wagon makes prompt delivery

EVERYTHING TO EAT AND WEAR SAM JOHNSON.

General Store, Oakland Ave.

Both Phones

Try The Classified Columns

Personal Paragraphs

Misses Metha and Zella Patton spent Wednesday in Columbus.

Mrs. Morgan Baker and Mrs. Geo. Haines spent yesterday in Columbus.

Miss Nina Bonham returned Wednesday from a week's visit in Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Barchett have been spending a couple of days in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Odd Ott has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Root in Springfield.

Mrs. George Jackson and Miss Jackson were in Springfield yesterday for the day.

Dr. L. M. McFadden spent Wednesday in Columbus on professional business. He was accompanied by Mrs. McFadden.

Mrs. Moses Kouns came down from Columbus last evening and joined Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson on a motoring trip to hear Billy Sunday at Springfield today.

Mr. Joe Fisher and daughter, Faye, Burget Hurley, Mr. Joe Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hardway went this morning to the Lewistown reservoir for a few days' outing.

The Lady Maccabees gave an exceedingly pleasant little Halloween surprise last night at the home, and in honor of Mrs. Glenn Blackmore. Some twenty-five of the order including the state deputy of Lady Maccabees, Mrs. Davis, and other friends invited in. A nice social time was had, refreshments served and as a crowning act in view of the birthday just passed, the lady commander, Mrs. Mary English presented Mrs. Blackmore a pretty Maccabees pin.

TOMLISON—MICHAELS.

A very pretty but informal wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage last evening. Rev. West performing the ceremony, uniting in marriage Miss Pearl Tomlison and Mr. Ray Michaels. The bride is a lovely girl and her name not ill fitting; and the groom a young fellow who will do her honor. He is the son of Mr. John Michaels, near New Holland.

The bride's mother resides in Manchester, O. From the parsonage, the newly married couple took the train for Cincinnati and Manchester, and after visiting there will later be at their home on a farm near Columbus.

The bride has been for some years, much of the time with her aunt, Mrs. Bybee, and has a large circle of friends among the young people in town. In her handsome going away gown of brown diagonal cloth and large hat with brown and tan willow plumes, she was a typical bridal picture.

LODGE NEWS.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

A called meeting of Kitchen Garden will be held in basement of Public Library Saturday at 3 p. m. All interested in K. G. work are urged to be present.

B. P. O. E.

Washington C. H. Lodge No. 129, B. P. O. Elks regular meeting Friday November 3rd, 7:30 p. m. JESS W. SMITH, E. R. CLARK GOSSARD, Secy.

OUR MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTIONS. We duplicate any offers made by any publisher or magazine subscription agency. Leave your orders with me.

H. R. RODECKER, Newsdealer, Postoffice Lobby.

Simon Collars
Oldest Brand in America

OLD GOLD GETS CASH

HIGHEST CASH PRICE PAID FOR GOLD AND SILVER.

Have you any old, discarded Jewelry you wish to dispose of?

C. A. Gossard & Co.
JEWELERS

Washington C. H., Ohio

HERE THEY ARE--ALL OF THEM

JUDGES AND CLERKS

MEN WHO WILL OFFICER POLLS

Tuesday, November 7th is election day, and the following judges and clerks have been appointed to preside over the various voting places throughout the city and county:

WASHINGTON.

1st Ward, A—Democrats, Chas. A. Stafford, p. j.; W. W. Fenner, j.; Raymond Feagans, c. Republicans, Tom S. Maddux, j.; Clark Rowe, j.; Earl Barnett, c.

1st Ward, B—Democrats, Harry Foreman, j.; M. O. Ireland, j.; Lynn Smith, c. Republicans, Joseph Murphy, j.; Frank Evans, j.; Dan Dick, c.

1st Ward, C—Democrats, George Perry, p. j.; Peter Pool, j.; Harry Wood, c. Republicans, F. M. Kier, j.; J. T. Evans, j.; Robert Clouser, c. 2nd Ward, A—Democrats, James Haggerty, j.; Claude Post, j.; Harry Flee, c. Republicans, H. L. Robinson, j.; Fred Burnett, c.

2nd Ward, B—Democrats, Chas. E. Coffey, j.; Anderson Smith, j.; Grover Taylor, c. Republicans, Frank Brakefield, p. j.; A. A. Hyer, j.; Wm. Bradford, c.

3rd Ward, A—Democrats, Peter Curtin, p. j.; William Himmler, j.; Wm. Dugan, c. Republicans, H. V. Rogers, j.; H. T. Baker, j.; Chas. Himmler, c.

3rd Ward, B—Democrats, Terry Gray, p. j.; John Knedler, j.; L. J. Sherman, c. Republicans, D. R. Jacobs, j.; Chas. Wolfe, j.; Jess Maddox, c.

4th Ward A—Democrats, John McDonald, j.; Harry Coffman, j.; Horace Ireland, c. Republicans, Nye Gregg, p. j.; John Arnold, j.; Jas. Pursell, c.

4th Ward, B—Democrats, F. M. McCoy, j.; Clay Thompson, j.; Earl McCoy, c.

Concord Twp.—Democrats, William Sheridan, p. j.; Grover Gault, j.; Harvey Burris, c. Republicans, H. A. Garrett, j.; B. L. Sollars, j.; Harry Minton, c.

Green—Democrats, R. M. Waln, j.; E. S. Harper, j.; J. A. Waln, c. Republicans, E. F. Haines, p. j.; D. F. Patton, j.; W. W. Ellis, c.

Jasper (Plymouth)—Democrats, George Cline, p. j.; Alonzo Baughn, j.; John Luttrell, Jr., c. Republicans, Wallace Harper, j.; Levi Ellis, j.; C. M. Blue, c.

Jasper (Milledgeville)—Democrats, Chas. E. Ford, j.; F. H. Powers, j.; A. C. Chamberlain, c. Republicans, G. L. McAllister, p. j.; A. C. Schaff, j.; E. S. Carr, c.

Jasper (Octa)—Democrats, E. H. Baughn, p. j.; Glen Rankin, j.; Geo. Wood, c. Republicans, Frank Kelly, j.; W. H. Houseman, j.; Frank Sharpe, c.

Jefferson (North)—Democrats, S. A. Yeoman, p. j.; H. L. Hyer, j.; Val Heironimus, c. Republicans, B. E. Williams, p. j.; H. F. Beatty, j.; Maywood Horney, c.

Jefferson (South)—Democrats, J. B. Armstrong, j.; Albert Armstrong, j.; Eugene Booco, c. Republicans, Geo. Allen, p. j.; Lewis Bates, j.; Ora Allen, c.

Jeffersonville—Democrats, G. S. Threlkeld, p. j.; A. C. Shepherd, j.; James Heironimus, c. Republicans, L. A. Kessler, j.; J. A. McKillip, j.; Guy L. Carr, c.

Madison (Madison Mills)—Democrats, B. H. Vance, j.; N. O. Hinton, j.; Herman Barclay, c. Republicans, Allen West, p. j.; Frank Dorn, j.; W. C. Long, c.

Madison (Waterloo)—John McCafferty, j.; M. R. Scott, j.; G. E. Skinner, c. Republicans, Kerns Thompson, p. j.; Wm. Strobe, j.; Chas. Anderson, c.

Marion—Democrats, Frank Hutson, p. j.; Jesse Glaze, j.; Clyde Cook, c. Republicans, Jos. G. Andrews, j.; J. R. Tharp, j.; Coke Vincent, c.

Paint, Upper (Bookwalter)—Democrats, Bane Rumer, p. j.; A. H. Hornbeck, j.; John Cannon, c. Republicans, L. E. Butcher, j.; O. A. Horney, j.; H. C. Reid, c.

Paint (Yatesville)—Democrats, Chas. Cook, j.; James Anderson, j.; Wm. Bland, c. Republicans, H. W. Looker, p. j.; Chas. Judy, j.; Sam Van Pelt, c.

Paint, Lower—Democrats, C. T. Sheley, p. j.; Ray Long, j.; Dallas Roler, c. Republicans, James Weyer, j.; Walter Larrimer, j.; John Andrews, c.

Paint (Bloomington)—Democrats, J. R. Lohr, j.; Chas. Groff, j.; Asa Wright, c. Republicans, R. G. Andrews, p. j.; C. A. Edwards, j.; Harry Elliott, c.

Perry—Democrats, J. E. Wilson, j.; Fred Chickner, j.; E. W. Wilson, c. Republicans, W. R. Everhart, p. j.; W. A. Bonner, j.; Henry Dawes, c.

Union (East)—Democrats, Joseph Hughes, p. j.; Bosler Lemons, j.; J. M. Hartman, c. Republicans, J. T. Perrill, j.; Frank Casey, j.; Elmer Highland, c.

Union (West)—Democrats, Elba Wilson, p. j.; Wm. Hutchison, j.; John Baughn, c. Republicans, Chas. Seibern, j.; Harry Silcott, j.; C. O. Bush, c.

Wayne (East)—Democrats, A. J. Kearney, p. j.; Willard DeWitt, j.; Wilbur Campbell, c. Republicans, Chas. M. Clifton, j.; C. B. Seller, j.; Louis Parrett, c.

Wayne (West)—Democrats, Noah Morgan, j.; Chas. Walker, j.; Herbert Murray, c. Republicans, A. W. Rife, p. j.; Harry Boyer, j.; Chas. Goen, c.

S. C. White Leghorns

If you want to raise the best of layers purchase one of my fine breeding cockerels. They are the long bodied, low-tailed kind. Will go cheap for quick sales. W. L. Van Gundy, 233 Henkle street. 249 12t

Hair switches renovated, dyed and bleached, combings woven; work guaranteed; prices reasonable. Mrs. Lulu Harris, Citizens phone 2534. 257 3t

If you use ball blue, get Red Cross Ball Blue, the best ball blue. Large 2 oz. package 5 cents.

Fried Chicken Supper at the Presbyterian Church, Friday, November 3rd, 5 to 7 o'clock. Home-made candy on sale.

MUST APPEAR IN PERSON

Secretary Graves Makes It Impossible For Taft to Register.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 2.—Secretary of State Charles E. Graves has made a final ruling on the point that President Taft has not legally registered as a voter in Cincinnati. In ruling the secretary holds that President Taft will have to appear before the Cincinnati election board in person on either next Saturday or Monday and establish the claim that he was unable to be here on the regular registration days. It is impossible for the president to be in Cincinnati on either day, and it is not expected that he will be able to be here before Tuesday morning, Nov. 7, election day. The Cincinnati newspaper owned by C. P. Taft, in printing the decision of the secretary of state, states that the matter may reach the courts.

At Fountains & Elsewhere

Ask for

"HORLICK'S"

The Original and Genuine

MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

At restaurants, hotels, and fountains. Delicious, invigorating and sustaining. Keep it on your sideboard at home. Don't travel without it.

A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no imitation. Just say "HORLICK'S" Not in Any Milk Trust

MONEY
Our Money Is Good.
Our Rates Are Better.
Why Pay More?
CAPITAL LOAN CO.
Passmore Bldg., S. Fayette St
Bell Phone 316W.

INVESTIGATE

The Underwear Problem All You Wish

You will not anywhere find more sensible, or serviceable, or satisfactory garments than the PERFECT FITTING, POPULAR PRICED MUNSING UNION SUITS FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN. They are knit from yarns of the finest quality. The buttonholes, seams and edges are finished with the most durable materials obtainable. No other Underwear will wear longer or wash better. No other Union Suit will fit and cover the form so perfectly. They stand the test of hard service. In quality they are fine enough to please the most particular. The cost is so moderate that they may be enjoyed by all.

You can't wash out the fit of a Munsing Union Suit. The garments are made to hold their shape. No matter how hard wear they get, no matter how often the garments are worn, the fit stays right in along with all the other good qualities. No sag, no pull. Two or three seasons of comfort in Munsingwear beats one season of misery in the cheaper, poorly fitting kind. It's the most economical as well as most comfortable Underwear you can buy.

Ladies' Union Suits	$1.00 to $3.25
Ladies' Separate Garments	50c to $1.25
Girls' Union Suits	50c, 75c, $1.00
Men's Union Suits	$1.50 to $3.50
Boys' Union Suits	50c, 65c, $1.00

EVERYBODY ought to wear Munsing Union Suits, and EVERYBODY would wear them if they fully understood how sensible and serviceable and satisfactory and economical they really are.

CRAIC BROS.

MAMMOTH BARN TO BE OPENED

HORSE SALES REVIVED

LEASED TO PROMINENT CAPITALISTS

At the Head is Mr. W. J. Galvin, of Jamestown

SALES BEGIN IN DECEMBER

Splendid Property Will No Longer Remain Idle---Opening Means Much to Washington.

Combination sales at the mammoth sales pavilion, which has stood idle for so long, will be resumed the first of December. This is good news to the citizens of Washington and Fayette county, who have long lamented the untimely ending of the big sales when first started in Washington six years ago, and which lasted a short time only until they dwindled away.

A mammoth sale is now being arranged for commencing with December 5th, and it is expected that 500 head of horses of all kinds will be consigned to the sale and sold to the highest bidder.

Mr. W. J. Galvin, of Lima, editor of the Horse Journal, and who represents a company recently organized for the purpose of conducting big sales, is back of the combination sales movement, and negotiations are all but closed for lease of the big barn, and all other arrangements necessary for the sale.

Mr. Galvin was in this city Wednesday, and his visit here is the result of negotiations which have been on for some time for the rental of the barn, and to complete other arrangements. Everything will be closed up this week, and next week he expects to have the barn opened and put in readiness for the sales.

The sales will probably last several days, and will draw horsemen by the hundreds from all over the state and adjoining states. It means much for Washington, and those back of Mr. Galvin are men who know no such word as fail, so that the success of the venture is guaranteed.

It is believed that this will be the means of inaugurating regular combination sales in this city once more, and the mammoth sales pavilion will once more become useful as well as ornamental.

A prominent business man of the city recently said: "The two things that made people sit up and realize that Washington was on the map was the cyclone and the combination horse sales". It is gratifying to the citizens to know that once more Washington will be "on the map".

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

TRUSTEE.

Oliver Baughn, Democratic candidate for trustee Union township. Your vote solicited.

A. M. Anderson, Democratic candidate for Trustee, Union township. Your vote solicited.

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of township trustee in Union township. If my services in the past have been satisfactory I will appreciate the vote of the people. JEROME TAYLOR.

Chas. E. Barnett, Democratic candidate for Trustee, Union Township. Your vote solicited.

J. Edmund Smith, Republican candidate for trustee Union township. Your vote respectfully solicited.

There is no danger connected with the use of Natural gas if your plumbing is properly done and you use high grade gas stoves, and The Dice-Mark Hdw. Co. are prepared to supply both at moderate prices.

ART NEEDLE WORK.

Mrs. E. C. Hamilton has received new designs in art needle work. Orders taken for work of all kinds. Stamping done.

Fried Chicken Supper at the Presbyterian Church, Friday, November 3rd, 5 to 7 o'clock. Home-Made condy on sale.

BLIND COMMISSION.

The Blind Commission will meet in the Commissioner's room in Court House, Saturday, November 4, at 9 o'clock. CLERK.

F. M. PALMER
Good Shoes Cheap

PUBLIC SALE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction at the residence of Mary E. Oswald in Millwood, Fayette Co., Ohio, on SATURDAY NOVEMBER 4, 1911, at one o'clock p. m. (sharp), the following goods and chattels, to-wit:

One bedstead, mattress and springs (new), one drop-head Singer sewing machine (new), one I. X. L. heating stove, one drop-leaf table, two good clocks, one washing machine, one set good buggy harness, two dressers, three carpets, twelve sofa cushions, one small Oak heating stove, one 32 cal. revolver (new), one folding bed, five rocking chairs, one good range, one 9-foot extension table, one set dishes, one set dining room chairs, two lawn mowers, one combination book case and secretary, five center stands, three lamps, good trunk and suit case, one bed lounge, baskets, hall mirror, rugs, pictures, lace curtains, porch shade, easel, hoe, rake, buck saw, pitch forks, spades, wash board, flower rack, cross-cut saw, clothes wringer, ax, tubs, scythe, clothes rack, lantern, two buggy robes, ice cream freezer, pans, oil cans, window screens, grind stone, Augie plow, quilts, comforts, spreads, wash stand, bowl and pitcher, bureau, umbrella, dressmakers' table and lap board, and various other articles of household and kitchen furniture.

Terms of sale—Cash.

O. S. NELSON,

Guardian of Mary E. Oswald.

Ray Michael, 24, farmer of Pick-away county, and Pearl Tomlison, 25.

A Timely Message

Now is the time to have your portraits taken—don't wait until you can't spare the time in the busy Holiday season—drop in now and arrange for your sitting.

HIGH GRADE PORTRAITS

This studio specializes on artistic finished work and we would be glad to have you comment on results we give in our "Sepia" and "Buff" tint $5.00 per doz. Studio open Sundays.

HAYS' STUDIO.

Washington Daily Herald

THE HERALD PUBLISHING COMPANY

W. W. MILLIKAN, PRESIDENT

PUBLICATION OFFICE NO. 206 EAST COURT ST., OPP. POST OFFICE

Subscriptions: By Carrier 10 Cents a Week; $5.00 for the year. By Mail and on all Free Rural Deliveries $3.00 a year.

ADVERTISING RATES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION
Obituaries, memorial notices, resolutions and cards of thanks will be charged for at half rates, or 2½ cents per line of six words.

Entered as Second Class Matter, August 20, 1910, at the Postoffice at Washington C. H., Ohio, Under the Act of March 3d, 1879.

TELEPHONES—HOME NO. 137. BELL, MAIN NO. 170

SELLING OUT.

Judge Blair of Adams county, now a resident of Scioto county, made nine hundred and ninety-nine and nine-tenths percent. of the wide reputation he now enjoys by prosecuting and sentencing men who sold their votes.

Adams county has become famous or infamous, if you choose, all over the nation, as the place in which Judge Blair made his reputation. He put Adams county on the map and wrote his own name in the history of the state.

But the voters who sold or plead guilty to selling the sacred right to cast their vote, according to the dictates of their own conscience, furnished the basis for all.

Accused men were brought in from all sections of the little hill county. They came from early morning until late at night to plead, most of them guilty, to indictments returned against them. The men who had sold their votes for dollars and cents were given heavy sentences and disfranchised for a certain definite period and the world applauded the infliction of that punishment and condemned the men who had sold out.

Tighter and tighter each year have been placed the bars of legislative enactment, around the voter until almost every avenue is closed to the vender of votes in the market of dollars and cents.

No Judge Blair has arisen to punish the man of affluence who sells his vote for privilege or for the promise of political preferment.

No legislative enactment has yet been framed which protects the voter from the purchaser, who exchanges influence for votes and purchases thousands of them every campaign.

No matter what the issue may be, no matter whether or not upon the result of an election hangs the fate of a great moral issue, the voters are there to sell out for influence and the politicians are there to purchase for influence, the sacred right to vote.

Men of affairs—men who are independent, viewed from a material standpoint—men who would scorn to associate with the dog who sells his vote for dollars and cents—men who would prosecute the poor devil who sells his vote for money—men who applaud Judge Blair's work—men who are in the forefront of great reform movements, sell their votes for the promise of being honored by political preferment.

The Judge who will arise one of these days and make the high class voter smart as Judge Blair has the meaner classes (if they are meaner) will have a reputation that will shine brighter and each farther than Judge Blair's.

The House of Representatives, national or state, which will enact a law which will place in the hands of fearless executives, the means to bring to justice the higher class citizens who "sell out" for a consideration other than dollars and cents, will number among its members men who will live as long as the Republican form of government exists.

Having to a great extent eliminated the petty vote sellers by judicial action and legislative enactment, we still have with us to deal with that other and far more dangerous class—the men who sell for place or power or promise thereof.

Why Girls Prefer to Work In Factories

By KATHRYN SCHWARZ

Perhaps one reason why American born girls prefer to work in factories at starvation wages rather than work in kitchens and be comfortable is that while in school they studied the same declaration of independence as their brothers did. Whether that old document tells the truth or not, it has made of our boys and girls something that does not willingly have inferiority rubbed into them.

One never stops to wonder that our young men will dig ditches rather than become valets or butlers or footmen, even though they might have more comfortable homes and better wages in the latter positions.

Some foreigners are born with or have been trained to a mental attitude of servility, but few raised in this country can acquire it.

A girl working for wages in a city kitchen has her menial position impressed on her in a thousand ways that perhaps even her mistress does not realize.

When she works in a factory she associates all day with people doing the same work as she does, and whether she figures it out consciously to that point or not she would rather live with that sense of equality and starvation wages than with comfort and the supercilious condescension she meets in another person's kitchen.

You who wonder why the average girl shuns housework, did you ever stop to consider that the life of the kitchen maid is as nearly a blank as it can be and escape total annihilation? With whom shall she associate? With whom shall she talk? Her mistress' family will talk to her—yes, talk down to her. The help in the families around her perhaps cannot carry on a conversation with her in her own language.

Every woman who will own to the truth knows that housework grows irksome even when done for the sake of one's own family.

Think then of its deadly monotony to one who does it day after day under conditions that of themselves kill all interest in life.

Until we can have co-operative housekeeping so that the workers can associate with each other at their work or until we can learn and act on the truth that those who do the most necessary and most disagreeable work are entitled to the highest honor, we shall not have girls doing housework if there is anything else at all they can get to do.

Poetry—Today

OWNERSHIP.

No man can own my share of fun,
No man can shine with all my sun.
No man can rob me, if he will,
Of love of vale and field and hill,
Or take from out my heart the feet
Of happiness in being real.

No man can take away my dawn,
No man can cast a cloud thereon.
No man can keep me from the spell
Of springtime meadow and the dell
Of summer, where the tree, a friend,
Keeps me in gladness to the end.

No man can claim with oath of lip
In my name common ownership
In those things that are dear and sweet

To me, like blooms beneath my feet
And still stars in a winter sky,
And great seas thundering leagues long by.

No man can own my share of all
The green outdoors, the wildwood call
Of nature to her few and fine—
That at her table drink her wine
And eat her meat and break her crust

And find life's duty in her dust.
No man can own my share of joy
In April memories of the boy,
Nor own or take my dream away
Of far-on mornings sweet with May,
My wealth take all—but these things spare,
My fun, my sunshine and my care!
—Baltimore Sun.

Weather Report

Washington, November 2.—Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Lower Michigan—Fair and colder Thursday; Friday fair; moderate northwest winds.
West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee—Fair and colder Thursday; Friday fair, continued cold.

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS.

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. Wednesday:

	Temp.	Weather.
Columbus	42	Clear
New York	44	Clear
Albany	36	Cloudy
Buffalo	34	Cloudy
Boston	34	Rain
Chicago	28	Clear
St. Louis	32	Clear
New Orleans	66	Clear
Washington	52	Cloudy
Atlantic City	46	Clear
Philadelphia	46	Clear

Weather Forecast.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Indications for tomorrow:
Ohio—Fair; moderate northwesterly winds.

Found Body Of Boy In Woods

Body of Boy Kidnaped From Home Found In Thicket.

York, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The body of Charles Ely, the two and a half year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ely of Wildcat, was found in a clump of woods about one mile from the home. About 15 days have elapsed since the little one was taken from its home. When it first left word was sent out and the neighbors by the hundreds searched almost every foot of ground within a radius of two miles, and they passed over the spot where the child's body was found several times, and yet it was not seen. It is believed that kidnapers, whoever they were, took the child and kept it in seclusion for a time. Their fear lest they might be caught caused them to carry the child back to the woods, where it was set free, but was unable to find its way back to its home.

BALKED AT COLD STEEL.

"I wouldn't let a doctor cut my foot off," said H. D. Ely, Bantam, Ohio, "although a horrible ulcer had been the plague of my life for four years. Instead I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my foot was soon completely cured." Heals Burns, Boils, Sores, Bruises, Eczema, Pimples, Corns. Surest Pile cure. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

PURITY POTATO CHIPS
SOLD AT ALL GROCERIES.

(Continued from Page One.)

the New Hampshire and Michigan will require no assistance in repairs. "It has demonstrated also that for our reserve fleet we should have an increased number of enlisted men. I have asked for 2,000 more men in my estimates this year, estimates which have gone into the treasury to cover pay and maintenance of these men and which are no larger than last year's estimates.

Need More Men.

"It has been my expectation and hope that the mobilization has enabled many hundreds of thousands of people to realize the extent of the navy and what great strides the navy has made since the Columbian review of 1892, when the pride of the navy was the cruiser Philadelphia. Today we had 24 battleships among the 100 vessels that covered about six and a half miles. Of these battleships the Utah and the Florida are the most powerful in the world. With the Delaware and the North Dakota, they will make up a division of super-dreadnoughts.

"The inspection had gone off without any hitch. The program was carried out according to schedule. That the fleet is able to make such a demonstration is due to the team work of aids and bureau chiefs working with the commander-in-chief, Rear Admiral Osterhaus, and the aid of operations, Rear Admiral Wainwright."

At noon today President Taft boarded his yacht Mayflower and reviewed the fleet as it lay at anchor in the Hudson river.

YOU CAN HAVE HEALTHY HAIR

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, A Harmless Remedy That Makes The Hair Grow.

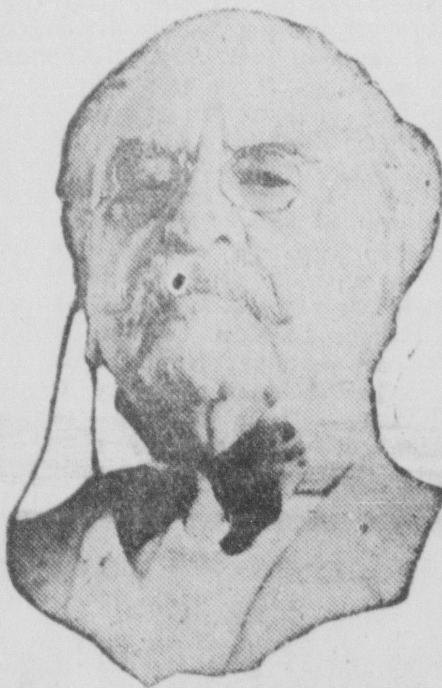

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak, thin or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is a clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at any time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start today with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Brown's Drug Store.

GEN. D. E. SICKLES

Civil War Veteran Turned Down by Loyal Legion.

© 1911, by American Press Association.

WAR HERO BLACKBALLED

General Sickles In Bad With New York Loyal Legion.

New York, Nov. 2.—General Daniel E. Sickles, hero of the Peach Orchard at the battle of Gettysburg, or which memorable field he lost a leg, has been blackballed by the New York commandery of the Loyal Legion. It is believed that General Sickles was blackballed because of antagonism arising from omitting the names of certain officers from monuments erected on civil war battlefields by the New York state commission appointed for that purpose.

YELLOW CLOTHES

ARE UNSIGHTLY.

Keep them white with Red Cross Ball Blue. All grocers sell large 2 oz. package, 5 cents.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature

of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over

Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

STARTS MUCH TROUBLE.

If all people knew that neglect of constipation would result in severe indigestion, yellow jaundice or virulent liver trouble they would soon take Dr. King's New Life Pills, and end it. Its the only safe way. Best for biliousness, headache, dyspepsia, chills and debility. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

VOTING PLACES NAMED BY CITY AUDITOR PINE.

City Auditor Pine has designated the places in the nine voting precincts throughout the city, at which the voters of Washington will cast their ballots on Tuesday, November seventh.

Here they are:

1st Ward, A.—Jno. Bryant's residence, E. Court St.
1st Ward, B.—Phineas Wright's residence, E. Market St.
1st Ward, C.—Harry Miller's residence, North and Western Ave.
2nd Ward, A.—Millikan room, N. Fayette St.
2nd Ward, B.—C. F. Bonham's, W. Court St.
3rd Ward, A.—Brady's Boarding house, S. Fayette St.
3rd Ward, B.—W. W. Wilson's, Court & Hinde St.
4th Ward, A.—Mrs. Col. Vincent's, E. Court St.
4th Ward, B.—H. G. Coffman & Co., Broadway.

You will find EDDIE, the shoe shiner at Pete Tracey's Barber shop. 256 6t

Q.—Why was it a sin for David to number the people (II Samuel xxiv and I Chronicles xxi)?

While it is not stated in the Scriptural account that the Lord did not wish the Israelites to be numbered, yet we are convinced from the reading of these chapters, particularly verses one and eight of 1st Chronicles, 21st chapter, that such was the case, and that He had given instructions to that effect. In the third verse of this same chapter, we find Joab, David's chief officer, protesting against this action of the King; saying that it would be "a cause of trespass to Israel." We may reason, too, that as David sat upon "the throne of the Lord" (I Chronicles xxix, 23) as the Lord's representative, he was acting without instructions and due authority in taking the census of the people and was therefore presumptuous in the matter, and deserving of punishment as a rebuke in not first ascertaining the Divine will of God, the true King of Israel. There is a valuable lesson here for all who profess to be God's people, and that is, to first seek the Lord's instructions and guidance in life's affairs and not to lean to their own understanding and natural preferences. The reasoning faculties of all are more or less unbalanced no one has a perfectly balanced mind, and hence it would be the part of true wisdom to follow the instructions of the Lord.

CUT OUT AND SAVE DINNER SET COUPON!

75 of these coupons accompanied by $3.00 in cash, entitles the bearer to one 41-piece Decorated Dinner Set, as advertised.

The Herald Publishing Co.
WASHINGTON C. H., O.

BURNING DAYLIGHT

BY JACK LONDON

AUTHOR OF "THE CALL OF THE WILD,"
"WHITE FANG," "MARTIN EDEN," ETC.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEARBORN MELVILL

(Copyright, 1910, by the New York Herald Company.)
(Copyright, 1910, by the Macmillan Company.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Elam Harnish, known all through Alaska as "Burning Daylight," celebrates his 30th birthday with a friendly crowd of miners at the Circle City Tivoli. He is a general favorite, a hero and a pioneer in the new gold fields. The dance leads to heavy gambling in which over $100,000 is staked. Harnish loses his money and his mine but wins the mail contract of the district.

CHAPTER II.—Burning Daylight starts on his trip to deliver the mail with dogs and sleds. He tells his friends that the big Yukon gold strike will soon be on and he intends to be in it at the start. With Indian attendants and dogs he slips over the bank and down the frozen Yukon and in the gray light is gone.

CHAPTER III.—Harnish makes a sensation as he appears at the Tivoli and there is another characteristic celebration. He has made a record against cold and exhaustion and is now ready to join his friends in a dash to the new gold fields.

CHAPTER IV.—Harnish decides where the gold will be found in the up-river district and buys two tons of flour, which he declares will be worth its weight in gold before the season is over.

CHAPTER V.—When Daylight arrives with his heavy outfit of flour he finds the big flat desolate. A comrade discovers gold and Harnish reaps a rich harvest. He goes to Dawson, begins investing in corner lots and staking other miners and becomes the most prominent figure in the Klondike.

CHAPTER VI.—Harnish makes fortune after fortune. One lucky investment enables him to defeat a great combination of capitalists in a vast mining deal. He determines to return to civilization and gives a farewell celebration to his friends that is remembered as a kind of blaze of glory.

CHAPTER VII.—The papers are full of "The King of the Klondike," and Daylight is feted by the money magnates of the country. They take him into a big copper deal and the Alaskan pioneer finds himself amid the bewildering complications of high finance.

CHAPTER VIII.—Daylight is lured by the moneyed men and finds that he has been led to invest his eleven millions in a manipulated scheme. He goes to meet his delayers but returns their stalling and Harnish goes back to San Francisco with his unimpaired fortune.

CHAPTER IX.—Confronting his partners with a revolver in characteristic frontier style, he threatens to kill them if his money is not returned. They are cowed into submission, return their stalling and Harnish goes back to San Francisco with his unimpaired fortune.

CHAPTER X.—Daylight meets his fate in Dede Mason, a pretty stenographer with a crippled brother, whom she cares for. Harnish is much attracted towards her and interested in her family affairs.

CHAPTER XI.—He becomes an element in large investments on the Pacific coast and gets into the political ring. For a rest he goes to inspect one of his properties in the country and momentarily is attracted back to the old life on the lone-some trail.

CHAPTER XII.—Daylight gets deeper and deeper into high finance in San Francisco. He makes frequent runs into the country thus getting close to nature, but his mind is still in the speculation trend. Very often, however, the longing for the simple life well nigh overcomes him.

(Continued from Yesterday's Issue.)

For, the moment the spur touched him, his left hind leg had reached forward in a kick that struck the stirrup a smart blow. Several times, out of curiosity, Daylight attempted the spur, and each time Bob's hoof landed the stirrup. Then Daylight, following the horse's example of the unexpected, suddenly drove both spurs into him and reached him underneath with the quirt.

"You ain't never had a real licking before," he muttered, as Bob, thus rudely jerked out of the circle of his own impish mental processes, shot ahead.

Half a dozen times spurs and quirt bit into him, and then Daylight settled down to enjoy the magnificent gallop. No longer punished, at the end of a half mile Bob eased down into a fast canter. Wolf, toiling the rear, was catching up, and everything was going nicely. And when, at last, Daylight decided that the horse had had enough, he turned him around abruptly and put him into a gentle canter on the forward track. After a time, he reined in to a stop to see if he were breathing painfully. Standing for a minute, Bob turned his head and nuzzled his rider's stirrup in a rogulish, impatient way, as much as to intimate that it was time they were going on.

"Well, I'll be plumb gosh darned!" was Daylight's comment. "No ill-will, no grudge, no nothing—and after that lambasting! You're sure a hummer, Bob."

He had taken a liking to the animal, and repented not of his bargain. He realized that Bob was not vicious nor mean, the trouble being that he was bursting with high spirits and was endowed with more than the average horse's intelligence. It was the sprits and the intelligence, combined with inordinate rogulishness, that made him what he was. What was required to control him was a strong hand, with tempered sternness and yet with the requisite touch of brutal dominance.

Throughout the week Daylight found himself almost as much interested in Bob as in Dede; and, not being in the thick of any big deals, he was probably more interested in both of them than in the business game. Bob's trick of whirling was of special moment to him. How to overcome it—that was the thing. Suppose he did meet with Dede out in the hills; and suppose by some lucky stroke of fate, he should manage to be riding along side of her; then that whirl of Bob's would be most disconcerting and embarrassing. He was not particularly anxious for her to see him thrown forward on Bob's neck. On the other hand, suddenly to leave her and go dashing down the back-track, plying quirt and spurs, wouldn't do, either. What was wanted was a method wherewith to prevent that lightning whirl. He must stop the animal before it got around. The reins would not do this. Neither would the spurs. Remained the quirt. But how to accomplish it? Bob always whirled to the right. Very well. He would double the quirt in his hand, and, the instant of the whirl, that double quirt would rap Bob on the nose. The horse didn't live, after it once learned the lesson, that would whirl in the face of the doubled quirt.

It Was Dede.

More keenly than ever, during that week in the office, did Daylight realize that he had no social, nor even human contacts with Dede. The situation was such that he could not ask her the simple question whether or not she was going riding next Sunday. Thus he found another card in the hand of the mad god had dealt him. How important that card was to become he did not dream, yet he decided that it was a pretty good card.

Sunday came, and Bob, out in the Piedmont hills, behaved like an angel. His goodness at times was of the spirited, prancing order, but otherwise he was a lamb. But no Dede did Daylight encounter. He vainly circled about among the hill roads, and in the afternoon took the steep grade over the divide of the second range and dropped into Maraga Valley. Just after passing the foot of the descent, he heard the hoof beats of a cantering horse. It was from ahead and coming toward him. What if it were Dede? He turned Bob around and started to return at a walk. The canter came nearer, but he faced straight ahead until he heard the horse behind check to a walk. Then he glanced over his shoulder. It was Dede. The recognition was quick, and, with her, accompanied by surprise. What more natural thing than that, partly turning his horse, he should wait till she caught up with him; and that, when abreast, they should continue abreast on up the grade? He could have sighed with relief. The thing was accomplished, and so easily. Greetings had been exchanged; here they were side by side and going in the same direction with miles and miles ahead of them.

He noted that her eye was first for the horse and next for him.

"Oh, what a beauty!" she had cried at sight of Bob. From the shining light in her eyes, and the face filled with delight, he would scarcely have believed that it belonged to the young woman he had known in the office, the young woman with the controlled, subdued office face.

"I didn't know you rode," was one of her first remarks. "I imagined you were wedded to get-there-quick machines."

Thus, and to his great relief, they launched on a topic of mutual interest. He told her about Bob's tricks, and of the whirl and his scheme to overcome it; and she agreed that horses had to be handled with a certain rational severity, no matter how much one loved them. There was Mab, which she had had for eight years, and which she had had to break of stall-kicking. The process had been painful for Mab, but it had cured her. "You've ridden a lot," Daylight said.

"I really can't remember the first time I was on a horse," she told him. "I was born on a ranch, you know, and they couldn't keep me away from the horses."

And thereat she told him more of her ranch life in the days before her father died. And Daylight was hugely pleased with himself. They were getting acquainted. The conversation had not lagged in the full half hour they had been together. When she talked, he listened and followed her, and yet all the while he was following his own thoughts and impressions as well. It was a nervy thing for her to do, this riding astride, and he didn't know, after all, whether he liked it or not. His ideas of women were prone to be old-fashioned; they were the ones he had imbibed in the early day, frontier life of his youth, when no woman was seen on anything but a side-saddle. He had grown up to the tacit fiction that women on horseback were not bidders. It came to him with a shock, this sight of her so manlike in her saddle. But he had to confess that the sight looked good to him just the same.

CHAPTER XIV.

Another Sunday man and horse and dog roved the Piedmont hills. And again Daylight and Dede rode together. But this time her surprise at meeting him was tinged with suspicion; or rather, her surprise was of another order. The previous Sunday had been quite accidental, but his appearing the second time among her favorite haunts hinted of more than the fortuitous. Daylight was made to feel that she suspected him, and he, remembering that he had seen a big rock quarry near Blair Park, stated offhand that he was thinking of buying it. His one-time investment in a brickyard had put the idea into his head—an idea that he decided was a good one, for it enabled him to suggest that she ride along with him to inspect the quarry.

So several hours he spent in her company, in which she was much the same girl as before, natural, unaffected, light-hearted, smiling and laughing, a good fellow, talking horses with unflagging enthusiasm, making friends with the crusty-tempered Wolf, and expressing a desire to ride Bob, whom she declared she was more in love with than ever. Against his better judgment, Daylight gave in, and, on an unfrequented stretch of road, changed saddles and bridles.

"Remember, he's greased lightning," he warned, as he helped her to mount. She nodded, while Bob pricked up his ears to the knowledge that he had a strange rider on his back. The fun came quickly enough—too quickly for Dede, who found herself against Bob's neck as he pivoted around and bolted the other way. Daylight followed on her horse and watched. He saw her check the animal quickly to a standstill, and immediately, with rein across neck and a decisive prod of the left spur, whirl him back the way he had come and almost as swiftly.

"Get ready to give him the quirt on the nose," Daylight called.

He hung almost gleefully upon her actions in anticipation of what the fractious Bob was going to get. And Bob got it, on his next whirl, or attempt, rather, for he was no more than half-way around when the quirt met him smack on his tender nose. There and then, in his bewilderment, surprise and pain, his fore feet, just skimming the road, dropped down.

"Great!" Daylight applauded. "A couple more will fix him. He's too smart not to know when he's beaten."

Again Bob tried. But this time he was barely quarter around when the doubled quirt on his nose compelled him to drop his fore feet to the road. Then, with neither rein nor spur, but by the mere threat of the quirt, she straightened him out.

Dede looked triumphantly at Daylight.

"Let me give him a run?" she asked. Daylight nodded, and she shot down the road. He watched her out of sight around the bend, and watched till she came into sight returning. She certainly could sit her horse, was his thought, and she was a sure enough hummer. God, she was the wife for a man! Made most of them look pretty slim. And to think of her hammering all week at a typewriter. That was no place for her. She should be a man's wife, taking it easy, with silks and satins and diamonds (his frontier notion of what befitted a wife beloved), and dogs and horses, and such things.

But the quarry was doomed to pass out of his plans for a time, for on the following Sunday he rode alone. No Dede on a chestnut sorrel came across the back-road from Berkeley that day, nor the day a week later. As the third week drew to a close and another desolate Sunday confronted him, Daylight resolved to speak, office or no office. And as was his nature, he went simply and directly to the point. She had finished her work with him, and was gathering her note pad and pencils together to depart, when he said:

"I Could Ride With One of the Clerks Without Remark, but With You—No."

"Oh, one more thing, Miss Mason, and I hope you won't mind my being frank and straight out. You've struck me right along as a sensible-minded girl, and I don't think you'll take offense at what I'm going to say. You know how long you've been in the office—it's years, now, several of them, anyway; and you know I've always been straight and aboveboard with you. I've never what you call—presumed. Because you were in my office I've tried to be more careful than if—if you wasn't in my office—you understand. But just the same, it don't make me any the less human. I'm a lonely sort of a fellow—don't take that as a bid for kindness. What I mean by it is to try and tell you just how much those two rides with you have meant. And now I hope you won't mind my just asking why you haven't been out riding the last two Sundays?"

She played nervously with a pencil for a time, as if debating her reply, while he waited patiently.

"This riding," she began; "it's not what they call the right thing. I leave it to you. You know the world. That's the trouble. It's what the world would have to say about me and my employer meeting regularly and riding in the hills on Sundays. It's funny, but it's so. I could ride with one of the clerks without remark, but with you—no."

"Look here, Miss Mason," said Daylight. "I know you don't like this talking over of things in the office. Neither do I. It's part of the whole thing, I guess; a man ain't supposed to talk anything but business with his stenographer. Will you ride with me next Sunday, and we can talk it over thoroughly then and reach some sort of a conclusion. Out in the hills is the place where you can talk something besides business. I guess you've seen enough of me to know I'm pretty square. I—I do honor and respect you, and... and all that, and I..."

He was beginning to flounder, and the hand that rested on the desk blotter was visibly trembling. He strove to pull himself together. "I just want to harder than anything ever in my life before. I—I—I can't explain myself, but I do, that's all. Will you—just next Sunday? Tomorrow?"

Nor did he dream that her low acquiescence was due, as much as anything else, to the beads of sweat on his forehead, his trembling hand and his all too evident general distress.

"Of course, there's no way of telling what anybody wants from what they say," Daylight rubbed Bob's rebellious ear with his quirt and pondered with dissatisfaction the words he had just uttered. They did not say what he had meant them to say.

"What I'm driving at is that you say flatfooted that you won't meet me again, and give your reasons, but how am I to know they are your real reasons? Maybe you just don't want to get acquainted with me, and won't say so for fear of hurting my feelings. Don't you see? I'm the last man in the world to shove in where I'm not wanted. And if I thought you didn't care a whoop to see anything more of me, why I'd clear out so blamed quick you couldn't see me for smoke."

It had been a happy day, Daylight had met her on the back-road from Berkeley, and they had had hours together. It was only now, with the day drawing to a close and with them approaching the gate of the road to Berkeley, that he had broached the important subject.

She began her answer to his last contention, and he listened gratefully. "But suppose, just suppose, that the reasons I have given are the only ones?—that there is no question of my not wanting to know you?"

"Then I'd go on urging like Sam Scratch," he said quickly. "Because, you see, I've always noticed that folks that incline to anything are much more open to hearing the case stated. But if you did have that other season up your sleeve, if you didn't want to know me, if—if, well, if you thought my feelings oughtn't to be hurt just because you had a good job with me."

Here, his calm consideration of a possibility was swamped by the fear that it was an actuality, and he lost the thread of his reasoning. "Well, anyway, all you have to do is to say the word and I'll clear out. And with no hard feelings; it would be just a case of bad luck for me. So be honest, Miss Mason, please, and tell me if that's the reason—I almost got a hunch that it is."

(To Be Continued.)

SAVE TIME AND LABOR.

by heating your home, office or store-room with NATURAL GAS.

Purchase a Gas Heater and use Natural Gas for heating, it will help to make the coming winter pleasant.

Heating with Natural Gas insures uniform temperatures, a safeguard against taking heavy colds.

NATURAL GAS IS A CHEAP FUEL, clean, convenient and reliable; no kindling to provide for, no coal to carry in, no ashes to carry out.

Call at our office or telephone us for information.

THE WASHINGTON GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND. Endless Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Here's Quick Relief From Cold in Chest.

Rob MUSTEROLE on your chest briskly and you will be amazed at the blessed relief you will feel right away. It prevents pneumonia.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and positively does not blister. Thousands who have used MUSTEROLE will tell what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet and Colds (it prevents Pneumonia).

For sale by leading druggists everywhere. Many of these display the MUSTEROLE sign (shown below) in their windows. MUSTEROLE comes in jars of two sizes, 25c and 50c. Accept no substitute. If a druggist cannot supply you, send 25c and we will mail you a jar postpaid.

The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

"Had severe pain in chest and back. Used Musterole and by morning pain was all gone." (3) J. M. DEAKIS, Wilmington, Ohio.

YOUR HAIR BRUSH IS HERE

Our assortment of Hair Brushes is an example of the way we look after the interests of our customers when buying goods. They are just the kind of brushes you would buy for your own use if you were thoroughly posted as to the qualities of brushes. Every brush in our stock represents utmost value at the price we ask for it. We especially recommend the brushes that cost $1.00 or more, as they will last longer and prove more satisfactory than the cheaper brushes. We have good hair brushes as low as 25 cents.

Also a full line of other brushes.

Baldwin's Drug Store
ARLINGTON HOUSE BLOCK

Corn, Wheat
Oats, Flour
Hay, Straw
Mill Feed,
Grass Seeds

bought and sold by

The Fayette
Grain Co.

"Gee! I Forgot Everything but

Kellogg's"

But you can be sure he remembered Kellogg's.

The crackling, filmy flakes are far too delicious to ever forget.

A delightful taste of purest white corn flaked and then toasted in the inimitable Kellogg way.

Have Kellogg's for tomorrow's breakfast and delight the family.

THE ORIGINAL HAS THIS SIGNATURE

W. K. Kellogg

TONIGHT

AT THE

Empire Theater.

CULHANE'S

ALL NEW

COMEDIANS

WILL PRESENT A FOUR-ACT DRAMA

The Half-Breed Girl.

N. B.—DURING THE WEEK
Percy--THE BURNELLS--Bessie will render vocal and instrumental selections between the acts.
Entire Change Each Night
Keep your seats. It's worth while

Tonight

Any Seat in The House

10c.

Here's Comedy and Plenty of it

The Palace!

Illustrated song—"My Palace of Dreams." An unusual-ly pretty ballad.

A Mix-up of Suit Cases
Champion Western Comedy

The Cowboy's Pies

Reliance comedy with Arthur Johnson, the former Biograph and Lubin star, in the principal lead.

COMING! Friday, Nov. 3rd, Wolgast-Moran world's light-weight championship fight pictures in three reels. One matinee at 3 p. m.

COLONIAL

Pathe A Western Memory Western Drama
Mc. Kee Ranken's 49
SELIG—A relic of by-gone days.

5c WONDERLAND 5c

Lady Goodiva's Self-Sacrificing
VITAGRAPH—Devotion to the people and the punishment of "Peeping Tom" who disregarded it.

The Adventures of Billy

BIOGRAPH—Suggested by Press comment on the tramp evil.

Parrett's Grocery

THE YELLOW FRONT

The Home of Quality for 24 years

Fresh Oysters every day; never saw them better Properly handled, delicious and sanitary; 40c per quart.
Extra Selects 30c per full pint can.

We are getting Frankfort Celery every day now.
It's much better quality than Northern celery and sells at the same price.

Fresh Concord Grapes 20c small basket; 25c large basket.

We expect a lot of fresh and extra fancy Long Island Cauliflower tomorrow morning.

Fresh Head Lettuce, Curly Lettuce and Spinach
every day.

Club Woman Fears
Typhoid Infection
Through Servants

Mrs. Borden Harriman.

Who forced an investigation of the typhoid epidemic at the fashionable Colony club of New York, of which she is a director.

Eight cases of fever were reported to health authorities, all the victims being waiters.

Mrs. Harriman, according to report, caused an investigation to ascertain whether some conspiracy existed to infect the employees with the germs and thereby, club members. The affair is shrouded in mystery and reports of the investigation are being watched for by the smart-set members of the club.

Thoughtful.

Hubby—I suppose, Jenny, you wouldn't want to go to the concert Wednesday in your old hat?

Wife—You dear thing! I couldn't think of showing myself in it.

"That's what I thought, so I—"

"What?"

"Bought only one ticket."—From Life.

FOREIGN SPES GET DETAILS OF OUR DEFENSES

Little Difficulty In Times of Peace to Size Up Fortifications.

WASHINGTON, (Special.)—Despite the recent passage of a law making spying on the United States military reservations a criminal offense with heavy punishment in time of peace, it is still easy for foreign governments to obtain information about the defenses of the United States, in the opinion of officers of the general staff of the army at the war department.

Though visitors are not permitted to take cameras into fortified places maintained by the United States, the officers declare it is an easy matter for any man familiar with coast defenses, to visit a fort and without taking a written note, to gather enough material in half an hour to enable him to chart completely the position of the guns, their number, size, range and effectiveness. There is no way of making this impossible without sealing up all forts, which is of course obviously impossible.

Despite this, however, there have been many instances of deliberate attempts at spying which seem to justify the passage of the recent law. One example occurred in New York, where a man arrested for a minor offense was found to have a trunk filled with military maps and information which convinced army officers he was in the pay of a foreign government.

Less than a year ago, an enlisted man in the Philippines, who was used as the official photographer for the army in the islands, was offered $25,000 for a set of photographs of the defenses of Corregidor Island. The defenses at this place are the most modern and the most elaborate of any ever constructed by this country, and special precautions have been taken to keep the details secret. The enlisted man pretended to accept the offer, and thus led the would-be purchasers of American military secrets into a trap. They were caught, but by habeas corpus proceeding, as the incident occurred before the new law was enacted, were able to escape.

A waiter in Seattle, not long ago, was found to be a foreign officer in disguise, while an American ambassador in a foreign country notified the state department a few months ago that a certain captain of a foreign army had been detailed to spend three years in the United States, making secret studies of our defenses.

The most startling instance was when an Englishman picked up a small package on the streets of Calcutta, and discovered that it contained blue prints showing every detail of the fortifications at Corregidor. No clue was ever found to the identity of the man who had lost them, and the war department is still in complete ignorance as to how the prints were obtained.

NATURALLY.

"Say, pop, what is meant by a bump of destructiveness?"

"Why, er, a railroad collision, of course."

THE FIRST MOTORIST.

Nicolas Joseph Cugnot, a French military engineer, who, many years before Stephenson introduced his locomotive, had built one for his government, is supposed to be the first motorist," said C. F. Splittorf of the Splittorf laboratories. Cugnot died in 1808. Napoleon obtained him a pension of one thousand francs—forty pounds—a year. Cugnot's carriage was built to transport arms, and he also designed a service gun.

WILLIAMS' KIDNEY PILLS

Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your kidneys and bladder? Have you pains in loins, side, back and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, and under the eyes? A frequent desire to pass urine? If so, Williams' Kidney Pills will cure you—Druggist, Price 60c.

WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio
Sold at Brown's Drug Store.

EMPIRE THEATER

ONE NIGHT ONLY

MONDAY, NOV. 6

Mr. Geo. H. Towle Presents

The Four Act Comedy Drama

A Cowboy's Honor

The Prettiest Western Play Ever Written

Noble men and women, funny comedians;
A clean wholesome attraction that appeals to every member of the household.

See The Great Duel Scene

NOTE--Don't class this play as a Wild-West Show--it is not--but reveals a heart interest story of the plains that holds you enraptured with its fascinating scenes until the final curtain.

PRICES, 25c, 35c and 50c

WALLS WANTED TO SCRAP

EMPLOYEES FIGHT

MUST PAY USUAL PENALTY

Oscar Smith, colored, night porter at the Imperial Hotel, appeared before the mayor and filed an affidavit against Jim Wall, a colored cook, charging him with threatening him with a knife.

Wall was arrested Wednesday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to the charge, receiving $5 and costs which he made arrangements to pay.

Smith claims that Wall had sent to Chillicothe and secured some of the famous "Green River" whiskey, which has a way of turning a man's head so that he becomes a veritable demon. He claims that Wall became quarrelsome and abused him, and waited outside for him with a large knife, which dwindled considerable when Wall mentioned it as a very small knife. He said that when he came out, Wall threatened to carve him into ribbons, or something equally horrible, and he went past him and hid himself to the mayor's office where he filed the affidavit.

Smith quit the job, and there is little likelihood of further trouble. Wall has been in this city only a short time, and came here from Cincinnati.

MOVING

Today we are moving to our new location, 111 E. Court Street, opposite Court House.

CHRISTOPHER
107 S. Main St.

DRUGS
That's My Business

Mayor Allen's Platform

To The Citizens of Washington:

If re-elected to the office of Mayor of this City I will continue in the future, as in the past, to strictly and impartially enforce the law against—

Bootlegging,

Immorality,

Night Prowling,

Loafing,

Gambling,

Petty Thieving,

Window Peeping

Vagrancy,

and all other laws on the statute books, showing no partiality to anyone—be he white or black, rich or poor, and no matter what his standing.

The citizens of this city will also be protected against return of large number of "Undesirables" who have been guilty of the above named crimes.

It will be my constant endeavor to, at all times, work for the advancement and best interests of the city and welfare of her citizens.

If this platform meets with your approval your vote will be appreciated.

Respectfully, RELL G. ALLEN.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

3 times.....1c
6 times.....1 1/2c
12 times.....2c

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—1 coal range. Mrs. Porter, cor. Main and Paint Sts. 257 3t

FOR SALE—A Steinway square piano at 315 N. North street. For information call Mrs. Chas. Persinger. 253 6t

FOR SALE—Twenty acres good black soil, well ditched, new four-room house on pike, 1 1/2 miles south of Waterloo on New Holland pike. Bargain if sold at once. Address C. Taylor, Mt. Sterling, O., R. F. D. No. 1. 252 26t 42 4t

FOR SALE—The Wm. Millikan Sr. homestead, west side of Fayette St., between Market and Temple streets, one of the best located, available lots in Washington; best side of street. See me at once. Frank M. Fullerton. 228 tf

WANTED.

WANTED—To rent house six rooms or over and barn. Bell phone 215 E. I. Jas. S. Hays. 257 6t

WANTED—A girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs. Ray F. Zaner, East street. 257 3t

WANTED—A good second-hand gas burner in first-class condition. Al Thornton. 258 3t

WANTED—Washing and ironing to do, work guaranteed. Mrs. J. S. Green, 626 Rawlings St. 259 6t

WANTED—Pair of 20-foot extension ladders, fastened to pair of wheels, taken from the Larrimer grocery Halloween. Will pay a reasonable reward for their return. Larrimer Grocery Co. 259 3t

LOST.

LOST—Black hand bag, between Dr. McFadden's office and my residence on Market street. Chloe Bonecutter. 259 3t

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Furnished room, modern conveniences. Opposite K. of P. Hall. 259 3t

FOR RENT—3 rooms in my house at once. Mrs. Chas. Vincent, 393 E. Court St. 257 3t

FOR RENT—8-room house, Washington ave. See A. L. Logan, 309 E. Court St. 258 3t

FOR RENT—Nice little home; $8. Immediate possession. W. R. Dalbey. 258 3t

FOR RENT—New 6-room house, semi modern. Citizens phone 155. Thos. P. Clancey. 43 3t 256 12t

FOR RENT—Two 2-story houses, six rooms, gas, 2 squares from Court House. Barnett's Grocery. 253 tf

FOR RENT—Elegantly furnished rooms with bath, northwest corner North and Paint street. Mrs. D. K. Lerch. 250 12t

FOR RENT—West half of my double house at No. 176 Columbus avenue. See Mrs. Mary Passmore on the premises. 247 tf

FOR RENT—House on Market St., 7 rooms, good cellar, hard and soft water. John A. Paul. 246 tf

FOR RENT—One side of my double house on East Temple street, 6 rooms. Mrs. Lewellyn Judy. 239 tf

FOR RENT—House 5 rooms, modern convenience. Corner Yeoman & McElwain street. J. E. Green. 233 tf

FOR RENT—One four-room and one five-room house. Inquire at Bentz's grocery, Paint and Delaware streets. 230 tf

FOR RENT—3-room house in Blueville. Call Tom Blair, Citiz. or Bell phone. 222 tf

The classified column is certainly the place to make your wants known to the people of Washington and environs.

Federal Official Praises City

Special United States Internal Revenue Officer John McMullen, of this district, who looks after the government's interests in collecting revenue from persons who sell liquor without a license, and break other laws, was in this city Wednesday on official business.

When asked concerning the relative standing of this city with others in the state, Deputy McMullen stated that it was of a higher standing in his line. "It is far above the average city and gives us little or no trouble now," said he. "The splendid conditions are easily accounted for," he continued, "and it is due to enforcement of the laws."

He had just come from the mayor's office where he had asked Mayor Allen if he needed any assistance in taking care of the bootleggers, and had been met with the information that "we look after them ourselves here". "I guess you are right" was Deputy McMullen's rejoinder.

More Lemon Extract Almost Pure Alcohol Uncle Sam Busy

Lemon extract bootleggers are finding that they are generally "handed a lemon" so to speak when they imbibe too freely of the dangerous compound.

Wednesday Ed Cook was arrested in "hell's half acre" for being intoxicated and when he was searched by the officers, two small bottles of Souder's lemon extract were found in his pockets. The extract contained 85 per cent. of alcohol, and when a quantity was poured into a cuspidor and a match applied, it burned like pure alcohol.

U. S. Deputy John McMullen, internal revenue collector, examined a bottle of the extract, and carried it away with him in order to make a thorough investigation, and if the article contains too much alcohol, something will turn up which will be surprising.

High Officials Visit This City

President Daniel Willard of the B. & O. S. W. and C. H. & D. railroads, together with superintendent of the C. H. & D., Alfred and general manager of the C. H. & D., W. C. Loree, arrived in this city early Thursday morning in a special train, after having been inspecting the road south of Wellston, where, it is said, some radical changes are now under contemplation.

The train stopped in this city for some time, and part of the officials left for New York and other points. The trip of inspection, covering almost one week, came to an end here, after the officials had covered the route thoroughly in Ohio and other points through which the B. & O. passes.

Blank Sells Out Leaves the City

Mr. George Blank, who came to this city from Circleville about one year ago and purchased the meat market on the corner of Court and North streets, has disposed of his business and will move back to Circleville where he will take up some other business.

Mr. Blank sold the shop to H. Bowen and Sam Whited, and these two men will have charge of it in future, taking charge Wednesday of this week. Mr. Blank has property interests in Circleville, and will look after them for the present.

One Man Owns 2200 Sheep

Chas. Persinger, living six miles east of this city on the White pike, and who is one of Fayette county's largest land owners, has recently purchased western sheep until he has 2200 of them on his big farm.

The fall rains have made the pasture excellent, and the sheep are doing nicely, notwithstanding that some of them came several hundred miles. He probably owns more sheep than any other man in Fayette Co.

Fried Chicken Supper at the Presbyterian Church, Friday, November 3rd, 5 to 7 o'clock. Home-made candy on sale.

MENTOR UNION SUITS ARE BEST

BECAUSE

They Are Best
IN FIT
IN QUALITY
IN VALUE

We Are Exclusive Agents

Leo Katz & Co.

Nielson Concert At Columbus A Musical Event

One of the biggest musical events in recent years will be the appearance at Memorial Hall, Columbus, on the evening of Wednesday, November 8th, Miss Alice Nielson and Riccardo Martin, and their company of soloists. Many residents of this neighborhood have been privileged to hear these great singers through the phonograph, but have never before been given the opportunity of attending a concert where both appeared. There will be, in addition, 5 stars from the Boston Grand Opera Company.

The concert will be by far the biggest musical event in Columbus in recent years, and several parties are being organized in this vicinity to attend. Reserved seats may be secured in advance by writing to the Wilkin-Redman Co., Columbus, Ohio. The prices will range from 75 cents to $2.00.

Alice Nielsen has had, perhaps, the most varied career that any singer on the grand opera stage today has experienced. Beginning a career in her teens, singing at the famous old Tivoli (of many memories) she joined the famous Bostonians as a prima donna, and in a very short time so popular had she become, she was at the head of her own opera company, touring this country. Miss Nielsen is now one of the leading sopranos of the Metropolitan and Boston Opera Companies. Her more recent successes are "Mme. Butterfly" with Riccardo Martin as "Pinkerton", and the leading role in "The Sacrifice", a part she created. No American singer has had a more brilliant career than Riccardo Martin. A member of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company during the winter, "visiting artist" with the Boston Opera, and the Chicago-Philadelphia companies, and is engaged again this season at Covent Garden, London. No more splendid tribute has ever been paid a singer than that of Henry Finck in a recent number of the Century Magazine, when he likens this wonderful voice to Caruso's. A feature of this short tour of Grand Opera stars will be duets in English by Miss Nielsen and Mr.

Martin, the two American stars that have reached the top both at home and abroad in the grand opera world. Many of the scenes will be presented in costume, the same as worn by the singers as members of the Boston Grand Opera Company.

Hetty is the jeweler that sells "Big Ben."

DRUNK SALTED.

Bill Whaley was locked up Wednesday, charged with intoxication, and was allowed to remain in the county jail until he had completely sobered up.

He was arraigned on a charge of drunk and upon his plea of guilty, received a fine of $5 and the costs.

BOLEN & WHITED MEAT MARKET

Successors to

GEO. M. BLANK

Dealers in all kinds of Fresh and Cured Meats. We solicit your patronage.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

BOLEN & WHITED

Lanum Bldg

Corner Court and North Sts.

DANCING SCHOOL

FRIDAY NIGHT, NOV. 3rd

EAGLES' HALL

Beginners' Class 7:30 to 9. Assembly 9 to 12.

Music by Horstman and Murray.

PERCE PEARCE, Instructor.

Ladies' Coat Suits.

Of surpassing tailored elegance and stunning style effects is what we are making.

DISTINCTIVE Ideas in Stylish DRESSES

Deheart's.
The Little Shop
Around the Corner.

We Can Make
You the Best
Waist You Ever had.

The new and correct Skirt Styles will be shown you here. We will give you exactly what you get out of town at one-half the cost.

Men and Boy's Suits tailored perfectly.

W. O. Deheart

MORGAN BLOCK
South Main Street

HOW WHEN AND WHERE?

FOR SALE
For Sale - A Bargain - a new 8 Room House - all modern - good location - Easy to see - Call and see - SALE

OUR CLASSIFIED WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

English Styled SUITS & OVERCOATS

$15.00, $18.00, $20.00 to $25.00

These garments with the "Across the Sea" look are going to make a big hit with those who insist on keeping a quick gait on the Boulevard of Fashion.

The colorings consist of Slate hued Blues, Tiger-tail Browns and a bevy of pretty mixed patterns.

W. A. THARP & CO.
The Proven Value Givers.

WE BELIEVE

If we can help two or three times as many people to get homes as we have done heretofore, it is our duty to do so. Hence we advertise and carefully push our business. We pay five per cent. on time deposits. All money deposited is loaned only on first mortgage on homes,—the safest of all mortgage loans. The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 W. Gay street, Columbus, Ohio. Assets $5,000,000.

(Continued from Page One.)

Plate), and Charles F. Day, vice president of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, headed the delegation. These four roads are under indictment, charged with violation of the Elkin law through discriminations in dock charges at Ashtabula and Conneaut, O., by which the government alleged more than $798,000 was rebated by the Bessemer to the Carnegie Steel company between January, 1908, and July, 1909, and by which the Pennsylvania is also alleged to have rebated $133,000 to subsidiaries of the steel corporation. Neither railroad men nor officials of the commission would make any statement, but it is known that the governments investigators allege that certain practices and customs in the handling of iron ore at lake docks have the appearance of discrimination in favor of large shippers. The railroad officials declared that if any violations of law existed they were technical ones and were not intended. The railroad men agreed to call a meeting of officials of the ore-carrying roads.

THE OLD RELIABLE STILL IN THE LEAD

Monitor flour, 65c. per sack of 25 lbs. Gwinn's Jefferson, 75c per sack of 25 lbs. Defender flour, 60c per sack of 25 lbs. Best Irish potatoes, 90c per bushel. Best soup beans, 5c per lb. Duffee's home-made sauer kraut, 5c per quart. Duffee's home-made mince meat, 10c per lb., 3 lbs. for 25c. Jumbo bananas, 12c per dozen. A full line of fruits and vegetables.

We are your friends. See us—
J. W. DUFFEE & CO.
The Old Reliable Cash Grocers.
Both phones No. 77.

Physicians

Dr. Flo Rankin Dunnington
Osteopathic Physician
116 W. Temple St., Washington C. H.
Citizens' Phone 4322

C. A. TEZTERS, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Eyes Examined Glasses Fitted
Office, Worthington Block
Market Street Home P. 68

Opticians

JAMES T. TUTTLE,
Optician,
Washington C. H., Ohio.
138 E. Court St.

Funeral Directors

ALBERT R. MCCOY
(successor to Hess & McCoy)
Funeral Director
and Embalmer.
Office 223 East Court Street.
Office Telephone 27; Res. Tel. 641
Citizens and Bell Phones.

ELMER A. KLEVER,
Funeral Director.
Bell Phones: Res. 294-2; Office 294.
Citizens' Phone: Res. 151; Office 180.

C. H. MURRAY
UNDERTAKING COMPANY,
223 E. Court St., Washington C. H.
Office—Both Phones 65.
Residence Phones, Bell 66 Home

Money to Loan

MONEY TO LOAN
At all times, in any amount.
Frank M. Fullerton.

MONEY TO LOAN
on real estate, chattels and personal security.
Frank M. Allen.

CITY OFFICERS OF NEW YORK HAVE NEW HOME

Building Will Be Largest and Costliest of Kind In the World.

IS A SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK.—(Special)—New York, the city of "big things," will soon have the largest municipal building occupied by any city government in the world. Good progress is being made upon the immense structure at Park Row, Duane and Centre streets and the gigantic gaunt red steel frame-work rising 40 stories in the air, is rapidly being "fleshed" in white stone and granite.

The Municipal Office Building, as it is known, stands out prominently even among the many sky-scrapers which rear heavenward on the lower part of Manhattan. Standing near the entrance to the Brooklyn bridge its tower is one of the most conspicuous objects on New York's skyline. New York's City Hall will cost $10,000,000, exclusive of $4,686,698 paid for the site, which in addition to being the largest, also makes it the most costly government building on earth. But, "City Hall" can hardly apply to the structure. It is a radical departure from the lines and architecture found and associated with municipal government buildings, which usually have been erected after classic designs of state capitols and federal buildings.

There is nothing "classic" about New York's skyscraper municipal building. Neither can it be said to be "beautiful," but "striking" it is. It is just what its official name—Municipal Office Building—implies. A series of 40 rows of offices, one above the other, quite in keeping with the utilitarian spirit of the age. When it is said that even with its 40 stories the new Municipal Office building will not be able to house all of the many departments of New York's vast city government, some idea is gained of the amount of ground space that would be necessary for a building of three or four stories in height, constructed upon the usual classic lines.

The foundation which alone cost $1,500,000, was a new record in engineering achievements. It extends 131 feet below the sidewalk for an area of 44,000 square feet. It is the deepest foundation of any building in the world and 33 feet deeper than the foundation of the Singer building. The massive structure is supported by 108 concrete caissons.

When completed, the Municipal Office Building will have a height of 532 feet and be the third highest in New York. There are 25 office floors in the main portion and a tower 245 feet high, above that, with offices. On top of the tower will be a figure 28 feet in height. It would be sixty feet higher than the great battleship Florida if the warship were stood on end beside it.

In the construction of the Municipal Office Building, it is estimated that more than 26,000 tons, or 520 carloads, of steel were used; 65,000 tons or 1300 carloads of granite and approximately 12,500,000 bricks. The building will provide a floor area of 1,263,000 square feet for office purposes. Chambers street runs directly through the center of the building.

The Municipal Office Building will be one of the most modern structures for office purposes that ever has been erected. There will be miles and miles of steam and water pipes and electric wires. The requirements of the different city departments have been kept in view in the interior arrangements.

There will be 32 elevators in the building and in the basement provision is made for a six-track subway station. It is intended as a terminal for the Brooklyn loop lines—to be one of the largest downtown subway centers.

An enormous annual rental will be saved by the city when the Municipal Office Building is completed. For years the various departments of the municipal government have been scattered over a wide area. Aside from the inconvenience of such wide separation in the location of departments, the rental aggregates many thousands of dollars a month. This will be saved when New York "owns its own home."

A Good Old World

She's a gray old world, at best, lad,
She's queer and full of pranks,
She puts us to the test, boys,
With all her foibles and ranks.
But right down on the level,
You'll have to doff your hat
For honest, she's a devil—
Of a good old world at that.

She may have black and blue spots
That put things on the hum,
But by ye spades and jack pots,
She sure is going some.

And when it comes to showing
That we can't stick her too long Hang to her in the going
And have a laugh and song.

She may have lots of grouches,
Lots of sore-heads, lots of mites,
She may cause yeils and "ouches,"
Lots of bumps and ugly ruts.

But she's not all bad, surely,
Lots o' lean with all the fat,
She's mixed up pretty purely
And a good old world at that.

BEN HOOVER.

No Chance for Sentiment.
"What was the happiest moment of your life?" asked the sweet girl.
"The happiest moment of my life," answered the old bachelor, "was when the jeweller took back an engagement ring and gave me sleeve links in exchange."—From the Canadian Courier.

Uncle Sam's Highest Paid Woman Employee

Miss Margaret Kelly.

This New Hampshire young woman is the highest salaried woman employee of the United States government. She has just been appointed assistant director of the Bureau of Mints of the Treasury Department at $3,000 a year.

"I can see nothing remarkable in the fact that a woman can do a man's work in this bureau," says Miss Kelly. "Any woman with intelligence, energy and pluck, and the divine faculty of not gossiping about her work, can work up to any height in any industry."

suspension and I am reluctantly compelled to concur in their opinion that the offender may not altogether escape.

It is just possible that there may be details of the statement put into Justice Darling's mouth which the justice himself would repudiate. For instance, what he actually said was that Crippen was obviously guilty. Consideration for the feelings of Lord Alverstone, who would naturally not have enjoyed hearing his fellow jurist say that he had sentenced an innocent man to death, may have had something to do with the justice's utterance upon this point.

But concerning the accuracy of the substance of the translation furnished of the justice's observations there can be no question. He wanted it distinctly understood that it was not alone for giving out a bogus confession that he held Newton responsible but also for the entire mismanagement of the Crippen defense—a mismanagement which it was wholly impossible to reconcile with the high order of the solicitor's legal abilities and attainments except on the theory of deliberate intention.

Though the report cannot be verified, Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, who was probably considerably perturbed by the revelations of crookedness in a trial at which he presided and who perhaps also felt that it would be to his own interest to have it appear that really this crookedness was of no great importance, is said to have questioned strongly whether Newton was guilty of such professional misconduct as to justify even his suspension from practice. It is certain, at any rate, that the year's suspension, rather than permanent disbarment, was the result of a compromise between the judges, Darling wanting a severer penalty and Alverstone one not so severe. Justice Banks expressed full agreement with the Law Society's finding that the solicitor was guilty of misconduct but said he did not think it was a case for the imposition of the extreme penalty of disbarment.

Justice Darling's comments, in suspending Newton, may or may not be taken as an arraignment of those English methods of procedure in criminal cases which were so highly praised at the time of Crippen's condemnation. Certainly it is not an arraignment in just so many words. Inasmuch, however, as an English judge is supposed to "see fair" between prosecution and defense even to the extremity of taking the case out of the hands of an incompetent lawyer and practically conducting it himself, and in view also of the fact that Lord Alverstone threw all his influence to the side of the prosecution in the Crippen case, the justice's assertion "that Crippen was not from the first to last defended as he should have been" assuredly sounds like an implied criticism of the judge as well as of the lawyer.

Crowded Out.

"Anyway, her heart is in the right place."
"I don't believe it."
"Why, she is noted for her charities."
"I know it, but look how she is laced."

NEW YORK COPS AFTER ROWDIES ON STREET CARS

Over 500 Arrests In a Few Weeks at Traction Stations.

NEW YORK. (Special)—New York's police commissioner Rhineclander Waldo now has well under way a campaign for the suppression of the rowdies on the streets and in other public places. As a result the "strong arm squad" of the police force is working overtime.

Within the last few days special attention has been given by this force to street car rowdies who have been found in every part of the city raising disturbances in the cars, insulting women and children and beating up the train crews when they attempted to interfere. The rowdies are usually busiest in the evenings and at the crowded sea shore resorts. Ninety were recently arrested at one station at Coney Island. The majority were young men who finding cars crowded for the trip to the city climbed through the windows forcing occupants of seats to flee. The police magistrates are backing up the efforts of the police force to exterminate this specie of offender and every man found guilty has been sent to jail or Blackwell's Island. In nearly all cases the courts refused to impose fines.

"Our men are doing great work for the women and children," said Commissioner Waldo today, in talking over the many arrests. "If we can keep this up for a few weeks more we will have the streets of New York perfectly safe for women and children in the evenings. These young toughs will reform themselves when they find that they can no longer insult people in the streets and cars with impunity."

"We have made upwards of 500 arrests within the last six weeks and most of the prisoners have served terms from two to ten days in jail. I do not believe that we will get the same man twice. One dose of this medicine usually cures."

One of the most extreme cases of rowdism occurred in Long Island city where about eight o'clock in the evening half a dozen men boarded a car in which a young woman was riding. The men placed themselves beside the girl and began talking to her. When she refused to reply, one pulled her hat off, another began to tear her dress. The girl shrieked in terror and the car crew came to the rescue. The motorman was knocked down and the conductor put to flight. The men were later arrested and sent to Blackwell's. A few weeks ago it was a common occurrence on the Coney Island and Brighton Beach lines for rowdies to board the cars and seat themselves beside young women who had no escorts.

If the women refused to reply to their advances they were subjected to insult. Now several thousand members of the "strong arm squad" are detailed to watch these and other suburban lines and few of the rowdies have been able to escape. Complaints are growing less in number and trolley riding in the evenings is becoming safe.

FEW AMERICAN BOATS GO THROUGH SUEZ CANAL

WASHINGTON. (Special)—Small part taken by the United States in the great marine traffic of the world is reflected in the annual report of navigation through the Suez canal just received by the department of commerce and labor.

In the year 1910 vessels passing through the canal numbered 4,533 and the tonnage was 16,581,898. Of this great mass of shipping 30 vessels, with 105,703 tonnage, displayed the stars and stripes. Twenty-seven of the thirty vessels were war ships.

In the showing of nations this country was below Great Britain, Germany, Netherlands, France, Austria-Hungary, Italy, Japan and Russia.

The total number of passengers carried through the canal last year was 233,978, of which the military totaled 76,854, civilians 128,171 and pilgrims, emigrants and convicts 28,953.

COMPLEXIONS TO ORDER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—Very latest in hand-made complexions comes in a disclosure of the secret of the Angoche women in South Africa, by United States Consul J. C. Spence, stationed at Lourenço, Marquês.

In order that American women may have the benefit of his discovery Spence has forwarded to the consular bureau samples of the African wood and the grinding stone by the use of which is produced the powder utilized in the making of the face paste of the Angoche belles.

UP-TO-DATE JOKES.

In a board school recently an inspector was examining a geography class of boys on Africa.

After he had put many questions, he asked the following:

"What bird lives in Africa, and has wings, but cannot fly?"

This question seemed to puzzle the boys very much, and seeing them hesitate, the inspector said:

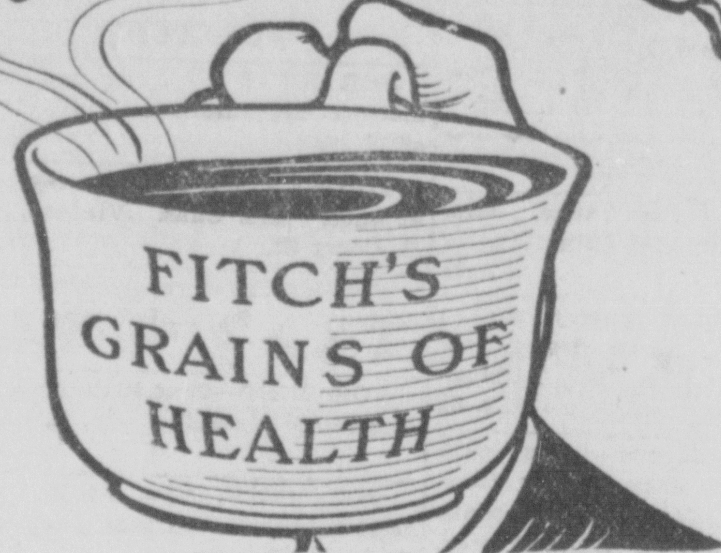

"Come, come! Cannot some of you tell me?"

At last a little boy put up his hand and said:

"What made you scream so when he kissed you?"

"He said if I screamed he would kiss me again."

THE COFFEE TASTE

You Who Scorn Coffee Substitutes—

Here's something that will amaze you.
A coffee substitute that smells like good coffee—tastes like good coffee—and has not one of coffee's bad effects!—Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH.
You don't believe it? You think all coffee substitutes are tasteless or vile tasting cereals?
"You tasted one of 'em once—no more for yours."
Yes, but you don't know about the one exception—

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

Get a package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH from your dealer. Give it a trial.

If then you do not think it TASTES like good coffee, without any of coffee's harmful effects—if it does not satisfy you—take what is left back to your dealer and he will refund the full purchase price.

Surely it is worth while to know a substitute for coffee that really takes the place of coffee.

You Know That Coffee Hurts You whether you can "stand it" or not. The powerful alkaloid, Caffeine, in coffee causes palpitation of the heart—nervousness—tremulousness—irritability—headaches—depression.

In Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH

the caffeine is counteracted by a simple combination of roots, herbs and vegetables.

The flavor remains—the satisfaction remains—but the hurt is taken out.

Drink All You Want

of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. The more the better. It is good for you. You can sleep like a baby on half a dozen cups. Try it today.

Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is sold by all leading grocers. The price is 30 cents the pound package. It is ground, ready for use. It is just as easy to prepare as coffee. But only half as much of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is required as coffee. Therefore, it costs only half as much as good coffee.

If your grocer cannot supply you we will send you a generous sample package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family at breakfast) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Enclose 6 cents in stamps for postage.

IT'S HEALTHIFIED!

Grains of Health Company
Youngstown, Ohio

For Social Functions

of any kind, your Linen must not only be clean but of a markedly immaculate appearance!

Anything that isn't dirty is commonly called clean but to do honor to your hostess it is your part to see that the expanse of Shirt front is snowy white, with the proper finish.

Shirts, Collars and Cuffs of our Laundering mark you as a man of refinement.

LARRIMER LAUNDRY.

N. Fayette Street
Both Phones

Try The Classified Columns

GOVERNMENT.

"When the lawless get a bad man in office they support him in all the evil that he does; but when the law-abiding get a man in office, too often they are ready to criticise him, and leave him to fight the battles without their active aid. That is the trouble. Good men are divided and bad men are united. If good citizens could only be induced to join hands in patriotic endeavor before the election, and stay joined after the election, the forces of error would be vanquished like evil spirits at dawn of day."—Ex-Governor Folk.